JAPAN, WITH THE HIGHEST
baby death rate in the world, appoints a government commission to remedy the evil. This nation, with the highest death rate of any civilized nation, for mothers in child-birth does nothing to remedy the evil and disgrace.

But if there is mortality among calves or young pigs, or their mothers, we see to that.

Because of hold-up men and better banking facilities, 4700 employees of the United States Bureau of Engraving and Printing work on part time.

These employees manufacture American money. When put in payrolls, our modern bandits steal it and shoot a few. Many firms now use checks instead of cash.

Last year seven billion checks were drawn in this country, 70 checks for each of 100,000,000 people.

Postmaster-General New broadcasts important facts concerning air travel.

Air mail had only one line from New York to San Francisco two years ago. Now it reaches most of the important American cities and spreads out to Canada, Cuba, Panama and other Central American cities.

Government mail pilots fly 25,000 miles every day, the distance around the earth at the equator, and before the year ends daily air mail flights will have increased by 5000 miles.

All this aircraft development is due to the post office, for which the people will be grateful. Observe that the post office is Government owned and operated. Perhaps other useful development would come if our "best minder" which means our biggest pocketbook, would allow Government to extend its activities.

Much praised private-ownership, represented by railroads, although airplanes interest railroads, since they threaten dangerous competition. A start in flying has been promised, however, by the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe and others will wake up gradually. The New York Central plans a start.

Schools of investment for "ladies with a little money" are needed everywhere. Women inheriting money keep it, on the average, about two years. Then some kind adviser, a man, of course, gets it or makes the owner lose it through his foolishness.

In New York a nurse, 32 years old, about to retire from hard work, kills herself. Her life's savings had been lost in a mining swindle. Real estate sharks, oil sharks, all kinds of sharks swindle women.

They believe poor things, what they want to believe, that they are to be made rich.

Women should not invest in what they do NOT UNDERSTAND. They should not buy land that they have not seen. And having seen it, they should think it over, examine it several times, consult some skeptical friend, then wait a month, and see it again.

Don't believe fairy tales. Ask yourself, "Just how much would I, me, myself, not somebody else, actually make a living out of that land? Or if it is to be sold at a profit, how do I know that I can sell it at a profit? And why doesn't the man keep it and take the huge profit himself?" If you are leaving money to wife or daughters, fix things so that no

WILL PARENTS FOR DESERTING A BABY

COUPLE CONFESS THEY ARE NOT WEDDED; BOTH WEEP WHEN SENTENCED

Weeping—but with their tears winning little sympathy from Judge Edward Blodgett—the couple that abandoned their four-month-old baby on a Weston doorstep—drew House of Correction and Reformatory sentences today in Framingham court.

And it came out in court, through their own admissions, that the supposed poverty-stricken and struggling husband, John J. Mason, and his "wife," Frances Annabel, was not husband and wife at all—and that these are not their names.

"Mason" is Joseph Massimo, separated from a Newville wife, and father of a four-month-old boy, now with his mother, and the girl is Mrs. Joseph Massimo, formerly of Newville, S. Dorchester, mother of a two-year-old boy.

Her husband arrived in court during the hearing. Identified himself and said with his wife until she was sentenced to an indefinite term at the Women's Reformatory in Dorchester.

Massimo was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction.

EQUALS OLYMPICS RECORD

BOB McALLISTER, THE "FLYING COP"

U. S. BEATEN IN DASH, HURDLES AND HAMMER; HAHN REACHES FINALS

By HARRY R. FLOYD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Olympic Stadium, Amsterdam, July 30—One of America's most disastrous days in Olympic competition was climaxed this afternoon when Frank Wykoff, Glendale, Cal., shot-put, could do no better than fourth in the 100-meter final while Bob McAllister, self-styled "man of destiny," was sixth and last.

The race was won by Percy Williams, of Canada, in 10.45 seconds, with London, the Englishman, second and Lammars, the German, third. Wykoff just managed to beat Legg, the South African, for fourth place.

The showing of the Americans was low for Olympic 100-meter sprinting. Broome and Russell having been shut out in the semi-finals.

The worst previous performance was made in 1924 when the Americans started four men in the final and could do no better than second, fourth, fifth and sixth, the event having been won by Abrahamson, of England.

U. S. BEAT IN HAMMER THROW
Coming as it did on the heels of the defeat of Frank Cahill and Morgan Taylor by Lord Burghley in the 40-meter hurdles, the U. S. team scored against an American in this event and the victory of O'Halloran, of Ireland, in the hammer throw, Yankee's took a decided drop.

As a result of the second day's program, the official standing and points totals at the end of the second day of the Olympiad, this afternoon were as follows:

United States, 55; England, 19; Ireland, 16; Germany, 16; France, 14; Italy, 4; Philippines, 3; South Africa, 2; and Japan, 1.

TWO GIRLS SOUGHT IN SOMERVILLE SLAYING

Two Somerville girls are being sought by the police today in an effort to solve the mystery of the murder of Private Kent Solari, 25, of Camp Devens, who was beaten and killed to death by strangers in Powder House sq., Somerville.

It was while Private Solari and his companion, Private Edwin Gale, were walking to two girls in a park, near the Somerville hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness.

At Camp Devens, where Giuseppe Solari, his father, his mother, and his sister, were told that he did not know any of his assailants and was not sure he could identify any of them if called up to do so.

COCHET BEATS TILDEN; FRANCE RETAINS CUP

Roland Garros Stadium, Antwerp, France, July 30—An American campaign to recapture the Davis cup from the French failed today when Henri Cochet defeated William Tilden in the deciding match of the series in straight sets by scores of 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

This gave the French three of the four matches played in the French kept the cup as a result of single victories for Cochet over both Hannebery and Tilden, and a doubles triumph for Cochet and Ziem Tormenta over Tilden and Bryan.

Cochet thus was the hero of the challenge round, with a perfect record of three victories.

Cochet won at his wheeling best today and gave Big Bill the worst beating he ever received in Davis cup play. Never before had Tilden been trounced outright in a challenge round for the trophy.

Realizing that his best chance lay in wearing down the American, he and a doubles triumph for Cochet and Ziem Tormenta over Tilden and Bryan.

SEVEN BESIEGED IN CHURCH WITH PRIEST

Lowell, July 30—Besieged in the Holy Trinity Greek Church, where they have been for eight days, Fr. Constantine Harnanias and seven of his followers today gave no indication of weakening, although their last substantial food was served to them three days ago.

Since their coup a week ago Sunday, when they broke into the church before daybreak to hold service, the court has awarded possession, temporarily at least, to the opposing faction.

Because of this, the eight remaining in the church in the many who originally took a stand there, do not fear to leave knowing that they would be unable to obtain possession.

Knocked from his motorcycle by a car, a police officer was seriously injured today at Arlington and Newbury sts., in front of the City Hotel.

The motorcycle was badly damaged and the leg of a man was knocked off into the gutter where it lay motionless until picked up later by a patrolman, Daniel H. Spier, of South Division, who was sent to the scene to look for it.

4 NEAR DEATH IN QUINCY AS LIVE WIRES FALL

Four men, two of them policemen, narrowly escaped electrocution in Quincy as, Quincy when a lowering commensurate, before hauled on an auto trailer, four live electric wires from their fastening, the live wires falling into the street. Fortunately at the time of the accident the traffic signals were against traffic, thus probably preventing a tragedy. For five minutes the wires spluttered and coiled about the street like serpents of fire.

Trapped in the area in which the wires fell were Officers Thomas Thompson and John J. Duffy, Jr., of the Quincy police; John Noonan, a streetcar starter, and John Calabrese of Clinton st., Chelsea, driver of the truck which tore down the wires.

Hundreds of autoists who witnessed the burning, spluttering wires were horror-stricken, fearful that the men caught among the live wires could not escape alive. Two women on the sidewalk became hysterical and had to be treated at the office of a physician. The emergency truck of the Boston Elevated was quickly on the job and removed the men from the burning wires. The four men who had been in peril escaped unscathed.

WILFORD MAN DROWNS WHEN CANOE OVERTURNS

Millions July 29—Early today searchers had not found the body of Albin Borge, 31, of Danvers, Ct., who was drowned last night when his canoe overturned on Lake Nipmuck at Mendon, three miles from here.

Borge was canoeing with his friend, Fernandes Gomez of No. 1 Prospect Hill, Milford. When the two men endeavored to change seats the canoe overturned. Trine child of Milford, who was cruising in his motorboat, near by, went to the rescue. He pulled Gomez from the water, but Borge had drowned. The water at the point of the accident is about 25 feet deep.

1539 LICENSES ARE REVOKED

A record number of automobile registrations and licenses, 1539, were suspended or revoked during the past week by Registrar of Motor Vehicles, George A. Parker. Of this number 841 were cancelled owing to non-payment of compulsory insurance premiums. There were 118 suspensions and revocation for driver's licenses under the influence of liquor, 138 improper persons had their licenses suspended and 200 for improper driving.

There were persons killed by motor vehicles or in motor vehicle accidents, the same number as during the previous week and four less than the corresponding week last year. The victims were equally divided between children and adults and nine of the victims were pedestrians.

"In the list of fatalities, last week the large percentage of pedestrians were children. There is only one remedy to prevent accidents, drive carefully, especially near playgrounds or vacant lots where children congregate to play. A little cautious driving may prevent much sorrow in some home."

SAY NANTASKET WAS TIPPED OFF IN RAIDS

Federal prohibition officials have begun an investigation, it was reported today, into the activities of a man who, they say, visited many places at Nantasket Beach and gave warning that the agents were to pull some raids.

This man even went so far as to give a complete description of federal agents, who he said were quietly searching the beach. It has also developed, however, that the description furnished by the tipster did not tally with that of any of the federal agents, who had spent some time at the beach resort making an investigation.

Asked why he had abandoned the baby, he said he injured his hand, could not work and was unable to pay for the baby's board. He admitted, however, that he received $12 a week from an insurance company.

The infant's mother started weeping when she took her place on the stand. She had just completed testimony when her husband arrived. The mother said she separated from him in December, 1927.

The baby, abandoned on the doorstep of the home of Edward Collins in Weston, is now at Framingham hospital.

Food was carried in to them by relatives and friends until Friday, when the court order caused the police outside to maintain peace. An occasional bit of food thrown through a window in all this time had to eat since then, police being under orders to permit no one to enter for fear of a riot and consequent violence.

A shot was fired in the midst of the crowd milling about the church, but police could find no one with a gun. The shot caused a near-riot and led to increased precautions by the authorities.

TRAPS 2 GIRLS IN AUTO

With one girl in the Chelsea Memorial Hospital suffering from a long gash in her left leg, multiple bruises and contusions, and another girl near collapse at her home in the North End, police of half a dozen towns are scouring today for the autist who tried to attack the girls in Revere.

The girl in the hospital is Miss Josephine Spaulding, 14, of South Margia st., Boston. Her companion was Miss Anna Calmon, 13, of Barton st., Boston.

AUTO KING GUARD AT WORK; DUCE ON THE FARM

Detroit, July 30 (AP)—Henry Ford observed his 45th birthday today but as has been his custom, the observance was a quiet one.

At his office, it was said no particular celebration had been planned and that Mr. Ford probably would spend the day quietly attending to routine tasks and keeping close touch with his business interests.

Rome, July 30—Benito Mussolini, the most powerful and absolute political dictator in modern history, is today quietly celebrating his 45th birthday on the farm where he was born near Predappio.

It Duce is in seclusion. Only the members of his own family and a few other relatives are celebrating the birthday with him, but to the farm come thousands of messages from every corner of the globe, felicitating him.

One of the first messages to reach Mussolini was one signed "Your most affectionate cousin, Victor." The message was from King Victor Emmanuel. The premier by virtue of his collar of Annunziata, ranks as a cousin of the reigning monarch. It is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed in Italy.

It Duce, on his 45th birthday, appears to be in perfect health. He arose at his customary hour of 1 o'clock, and had his customary breakfast of a glass of milk. Afterwards he inspected the livestock and crops on the small farm.

NOBILE PARTY DREW LOTS TO BE SAVED

He said that no restriction had been imposed on his liberty to talk about the expedition and that he had parted with Nobile and the others as the best of friends.

Members of the Czechoslovakian expedition to Germany met him and his fiancée and her mother, whom he had not seen since the dirigible Italia, sailed from Stolz for Sittlingen, were also at the station.

NOBILE DREW FORTUNE. Dr. Rehnbeck again emphasized that the rescue from the ice floe camp of Gen. Nobile and others was not of the leaders' choosing; he said the party had drawn lots to see who should be saved first in case a plane came to their rescue.

Nobile's second draw number one and Nobile number four, but when Lieut. Lundberg landed on the floe with his small plane he was accompanied by another Swedish aviator and could take only one passenger, Cecconi, who suffered a broken leg when the Italia crashed, weighs in the neighborhood of 225 pounds. He proved too heavy.

MADE NOBILE GO. Under the circumstances and at the insistence of the Swedish aviators that Gen. Nobile's knowledge was needed to further rescue work, the latter was substituted for Cecconi.

It was recalled that Lundberg made his second trip to the ice floe alone, hoping to take Cecconi and one of the smaller members of the party back to his base. But he overturned his plane in landing and was himself marooned for several weeks.

Professor Nobile was asked if he would care to take part in another polar expedition. He evasively planned at his fiancée standing beside him as he answered:

"Yes, if I were a single man."

The Nobile train from Wismar is scheduled to reach Rome at 10 p. m. tomorrow.

WOMAN DEAD, HUSBAND HURT IN CRASH IN FRANCE

Carcassonne, France, July 30 (AP)—William H. MacIntyre, understood to be a former New Yorker, was seriously hurt and his wife killed when an automobile crashed into a tree here. Broken glass savaged Mrs. MacIntyre's neck artery, a break in the steering mechanism caused the crash.

"The Honor of Italy Is Intact," Says Gen. Nobile

Copenhagen, July 30 (AP)—The newspaper Morgen Bladet says that while Gen. Umberto Nobile was here with the survivors of his polar expedition he was asked whether the report was correct that he contemplated another North Pole expedition "to re-establish Italy's honor."

The general's features hardened and his eyes flashed angrily as he replied with scorn:

"The honor of Italy? No, they say the honor of Italy must be re-established! But that's not necessary. The honor of Italy is intact. No, I have made no further plans."

KILL EE COW THAT CAUSED EPIDEMIC

Panay, the famous Lee cow which caused with that of the late Mrs. O'Leary of Chicago in death-dealing destructiveness, expired her cruelness today at the hands of an executioner in the Forest Hills laboratory of the State Department of Public Health.

In accordance with the Mosaic law, the state took the life of Panay, accused of having caused indirectly nearly 20 deaths, together with a loss of $100,000 to the town of Lee and its business men.

To the death she went, Panay, shipped here from Lee where her contaminated milk caused the epidemic of septic sore throat, appeared an innocent victim of fate. Apparently aware of an impending end in her life, she gazed pitifully at her captor and occasionally uttered a mournful "moo" as though calling for help.

In yielding up her life, Panay became a martyr to science, for state and federal anti-toxin experts will make researches in her carcass in an attempt to discover a serum which will offset the effects of the septic sore throat germ.

Imported from Northern Vermont with a herd by a Lee dairyman, the cow was ordered slaughtered by Dr. George H. Hildner, head of the State Department of Public Health.

Lee business men estimate that the epidemic originating in her milk cost the town between $25,000 and $30,000 for nurses, doctors and supplies, the loss of business bringing the total well up to $100,000. A total of 76 nurses are still on duty there, but all the outside physicians have departed. Only 15 cases are now in the emergency hospital and no new cases have developed for 10 days.

3 BOSTONIANS INJURED IN WRECK

Woodland, Cal., July 30—Thirty-three persons, including Bostonians, were being treated at hospitals today as a result of injuries received in a train wreck at Cortena, north of this place.

Most of the injured were lawyers and their wives.

The train was a special, bringing attorneys and their families back from the American Bar Association convention at Seattle, Wash. Three of the injured are reported today to be in critical condition.

Among New Englanders in the casualty list are:

Clifford Davis, Boston, lawyer.

Wendell Bronson, Springfield, cut and bruises on arm.

George H. Brown, Brookline, wrenched back and head injured.

Mrs. George Brown, bruised and cut.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stevens, Lynn, bruises and cuts.

Thomas S. Cotter, Pittsburg, N. Y., Clarence Scott, Quincy, Ill., and J. P. Kane, Pittsburg, were said to be in a critical condition at the Arbuckle sanatorium, while a number of others were taken to the Arbutus sanatorium, while a number had been brought to the Woodland hospital.

The collision occurred at Cortena, north of here. There were various opinions as to the cause. Some said a long curve prevented the engineer of the Cascade Limited from seeing the special until he was too near to stop, while others said the track was straight at that point.

TRAFFIC JAM IN BACK BAY

A bad traffic snarl which reserve traffic policemen and patrolmen tried in vain to unravel, was caused today by the barring of autos from Boylston st. between Arlington and Charles st., and from Province st.

That part of Boylston st. is being reconstructed and a new road is being laid in Province st.

Automobiles bound downtown were detained by the detouring through Arlington st. to Stuart st. and Columbus ave. There was a continuous parade of cars through these streets and delays were almost interminable. Serious rush hour conditions were foreseen by the authorities.

WILKINS TO USE TOP OF WORLD PLANE ON BOTTOM

Los Angeles, July 30 (AP)—The monoplane that carried Capt. Sir George H. Wilkins and his pilot over the North Pole last April has been picked by the famous explorer for his proposed exploration flights in the region of the South Pole.

Wilkins said a second plane under construction here was a monoplane of the same type but equipped with combination pontoon skis for landing on water or ice will be used to carry supplies to the final base for the "Juno" off.

MAN IS SHOT BY JEALOUS GIRL

Jealousy of a girl is believed by the police to be responsible for the shooting of an unidentified man at the corner of Buftin pl. and Boston at 10:15 today.

The victim and the woman who shot him down were dragged into the automobile from which the woman had alighted to fire the bullet.

Witnesses of the shooting, from the two women, told the police that the machine approached a man standing alone on the sidewalk, that a woman in fashionable dress alighted with a drawn revolver, and fired screaming, "If I live, die, I'll shoot you."

The man crumpled to the sidewalk. While the woman stood over him, two men jumped out of the machine and picked up the wounded

Father Waves Traffic by Auto Bier of His Girl

Blackstone, R. I., July 29.—For miles from Blackstone Center, on the Providence road, Patrolman Gerald J. McGuire of Woonsocket directed traffic, a steady stream of happy automobilists who sought to park and inspect the wreck of a car that had plunged down a car wash.

McGuire kept them moving, waved and ordered on, they could not congest in such a critical situation the wrecked car.

A few drivers remarked upon blood streaming down McGuire's face, but few remarked his tears.

For the wrecked machine was McGuire's and it is by the body of McGuire's daughter Anna, 15, killed instantly when her father waved the car from the road to avoid collision with another car. His wife and a second daughter were in Woonsocket Hospital with minor injuries.

Now, moved to McGuire's door, and after a time when the body of his girl has been removed, McGuire's traffic duty ended and he went away.

That the woman who did the shooting was advised by jealousy, immediately after the shooting the police of Blackstone, R. I., set out to find up members of gangs in Woonsocket and Cambridge.

EFFORT TO KILL PILSUDSKI

Berlin, July 29 (AP)—An attempt to assassinate Marshal Pilsudski, Polish Minister of War, was frustrated through discovery of a time bomb in the Polish army office, according to press advice from Warsaw today.

The bomb was in a package addressed to Marshal Pilsudski. The package was found by a soldier who kept secret in Warsaw and had not been taken out there until it looked out there were "rumors that Pilsudski, in a rage against the army office, had ordered that it be blown up."

Waterville, Me., July 29.—While two employees were out of the office of the Waterville Co. of the city, some one entered and left with $185 from the cash register. It was the first deposit robbery in Waterville for many months.

NOBILE GETS TO GERMANY

Berlin, July 29 (AP)—Gen. Umberto Nobile and the survivors of the Italian, reached Germany at 11:30 p.m. today, after a journey by the train ferry from Denmark.

The survivors of the airship, which was shot down by British fighters, were taken to a hospital in Berlin. The Italian airship was shot down by British fighters on July 25, near the coast of Norway. The airship was carrying 30 people, including Gen. Nobile and his wife.

HOOVER OMITTS SUNDAY FISHING

Big Creek Lodge, Near Medford, Ore., July 29 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover came today to the first of the two fishing grounds he had selected in this neighborhood for his first go at his favorite sport in his home state since his nomination as the Republican Presidential candidate.

Resident trout in the Rogue river, fish that have been down to the sun and bank, were sought by Hoover before he essayed a return to northern California to lure the mountain trout at the headwaters of the Klamath river.

Hoover was an overnight guest here of William Linnac, a Medford merchant, who has a cabin on the Rogue.

The candidate had intended to spend the night at a Medford hotel, but leaves that his auto caravan at Grand's Pass, had a hurried conference with the Oregon policemen who were clearing the party the way over the mountain roads, and then heading himself, Jack went of Medford the lead car turned off on a dirt highway and drove to the place.

Mr. Hoover and some of his party accepted the invitation to spend the night and some week fishing late in the day, but the candidate deferred the waiting of his line until he had not time to fish on Sunday.

At Brown's camp, on the upper Klamath, Mr. Hoover will be the guest of Milton Ebbert of San Francisco until Wednesday, when he will leave for Palo Alto.

SMITH IGNORES WHITE ATTACK

Southampton N. Y., July 29 (AP)—Gov. Al Smith has decided to ignore the latest attack made on his legislative record by William Allen White, Kansas editor, but when he returns to New York Wednesday he probably will have something more to say to former U. S. Sen. Robert L. Owen, because of the latter's intention to bolt the Democratic party.

The governor, enjoying a brief vacation at Hampton Hills, made it plain he intends to devote all his time to the next two days to swimming and golf.

The governor was to play today at the Southampton Hills golf course with Surgeon James A. Foley, of New York City's son, Arthur Smith and William A. Humphrey of Albany.

Someone asked if the governor considered his golf game had improved.

"Off the record," he said, smiling, "it's getting worse every day, but on the record, steady improvement."

MISS WARREN

He won her... but not until he learned to overcome "B. O."

At first, he alone was in love—he was coldly indifferent. He made all the advances—she merely tolerated him. At parties, she avoided him and devoted all her winsome charms to other men.

Naturally, he was bewildered. It hurt to think that the one girl he adored, didn't care for him.

Then one night a queer suspicion flashed across his mind. Body odor—could that be the trouble? She was so dainty herself, she wouldn't be apt to excuse a fault like body odor. He'd have to be more careful—and make sure of himself.

He found out later that he guessed right about "B. O." They're engaged now. Of course, it took time to win her—"B. O." isn't easily forgiven.

Don't risk body odor!

Perhaps you're saying, "But I'm safe." Wait! Body odor is too treacherous a fault to take chances with.

We all have to perspire. Health demands it. Even on a cool day, our pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste. We can't detect this unpleasantness ourselves. Our sense of smell becomes desensitized to it. But others always notice it.

Keep pores purified

To avoid embarrassment—just wash and lather regularly with Lifebuoy, the delightful toilet soap that purifies. Its refreshing and mild antiseptic lather deodorizes pores—giving bath-to-bath freshness and freedom from body odor.

So fine for the skin!

This same gentle, antiseptic Lifebuoy lather also purifies face pores—keeps complexion glowingly fresh and clear. Guards health, too—by removing germs.

You'll learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you it purifies, and which vanishes as you rinse. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

Propaganda 'High Spots'

DIRECTOR'S REPORT OF BUREAU ACTIVITIES

Presented at the meeting of the Michigan Committee on Public Utility Information at Detroit, January 6, 1928

High spots of the activities of the bureau and of the director since the October 2 meeting of the committee include:

- (c) Study of farm electrification developments preliminary to the preparation of a series of informative articles covering the subject.
- (d) Consideration of gas use developments in industry, for home heating, etc., looking to a like series of articles.
- (e) Investigation of the Michigan situation relative to the "Society of Savings" program being urged and agitated by certain leaders of the National League of Women Voters.
- (f) Consideration of the textbook situation and the establishment of the Bureau in Public Utilities at the University of Detroit.
- (g) Distribution of the usual news releases.
- (h) Watchfulness of news reports dealing with Michigan in the field of electricity and the utility industry, and of Michigan editorial comment and attitude upon such as the League of Women Voters. Item (f) "the textbook situation." Then distribution of "the usual news releases" and "watchfulness of news reports coming to Michigan on the Walsh resolution and like matters, and of Michigan editorial comment and attitude upon such issues."
- (i) Attendance at A.O.A. convention, meeting of N.E.A. Committee on Co-operation with Educational Institutions, regional meeting of state bureau directors, meeting of Michigan N.E.A. Committee on Rural Electrification, and various other conferences.
- (j) Removal of the bureau offices.

HERE Arthur W. Stace, director of the Utility Propaganda Bureau in Michigan, tells in his own words the "high spots" of its activities. First comes getting pamphlets into schools. These teach that "utilities can make no profits in the sense that other businesses do." Next is public speaking, which is telling adults at clubs, meetings and conventions much the same thing. The farm electrification work is shown in the Federal Trade Commission record in which this report is an exhibit, to consist largely of suppressing agitation among farmers for service or for cheaper current. Item (e) relates to combating discussion of lower rates in the League of Women Voters. Item (f) "the textbook situation." Then distribution of "the usual news releases" and "watchfulness of news reports coming to Michigan on the Walsh resolution and like matters, and of Michigan editorial comment and attitude upon such issues."

EASTMAN SHOWS 400 FIVE HOMES FIRST AMATEUR AFTER KANSAS COLOR MOVIES CLOUDBURSTS

The new process, utilizing a three-color "light filter," and new film with minute cylindrical lenses, is the culmination of years of experimentation.

With the "light filter" and the special film, the veteran amateur photographer, it is claimed, can make motion pictures which represent the accurate and brilliant reproduction of every color and shade in nature.

All the amateur has to do is to insert the "color filter" in his home movie camera, and use the special film. The simplicity of its use is said to be most remarkable.

400 FIVE HOMES AFTER KANSAS CLOUDBURSTS

Hays, Kansas, July 30 (AP)—Flood conditions prevailed in the comparatively dry wheat belt of western central Kansas today following near cloudbursts in several sections yesterday.

Although 250 families were forced to flee their homes after darkness fell, the Union Pacific Station, which was inundated by the low southern residence section, no loss of life was reported here.

Water was six feet deep in the buildings of the Kansas State Teachers College and also had entered the Union Pacific Station.

GOOD GIRL

By ROY L. FOLEY

Can a Girl Have Too Much Feminine Appeal?

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Nancy Deane, golden-haired, dark-eyed, who has lived her 18 years with David and Margaret O'Day, foster parents, in Worcester, learn she is the granddaughter of the wealthy and aristocratic Montgomery Deane of Boston, who disinherited her father and do not even know of her existence. Through John Blair, a young man she has learned to admire, she secures a letter to Howard Westcott, manager of a mill in Boston. She meets Ginger Varden, a style model, who takes her to her Boston boarding house and introduces her to her friends. One of these, Vic Fleming, makes love to her and asks her to marry him. In the mill, Westcott, attracted by her beauty, offers her a place in the office. She is naively delighted, but both Ginger and Vic denounce Westcott.

That same evening while Vic, Jerry Durant, Ginger and Nancy are dining and dancing at The Pheasant, Westcott comes in; Vic picks a quarrel and they have a rough and tumble fight and are arrested. Nancy sees blood on Westcott's face.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER 12

THE newspapers next day were full of the story. The headlines told that Howard Westcott, son of William Westcott, millionaire sportsman and owner of the big mill had been arrested in a road-house brawl over a girl.

And the girl was Nancy O'Day. In the untidy way they have of rooting out facts and setting in information, even when it is refused, the reporters had learned Nancy's name, where she was staying, where she had come from what she was doing in Boston. They discovered who her parents were, and that she spoke of Mr. and Mrs. David O'Day of Worcester as her parents.

As Nancy read the story, sitting on the bed at five o'clock the next morning, she was amazed at the amount of information concerning herself and the people she was with, that she read there. She blushed with shame and curiosity the sight of her own name in print.

The reporters described both Nancy and the women whom Howard Westcott had brought into the Pheasant, as extraordinarily good looking.

The story wound up by saying that Westcott and Victor Fleming had been taken to a police station where they spent practically all the night until they had furnished bail. The story of the affair was on the front page. The headlines were in black type. There was a four column strip of pictures—Vic's, Howard Westcott's, Ginger's, and a picture of the woman Westcott had brought into the roadhouse. The name under the woman's picture was Peggy Spaulding, and it said that she was recently divorced from Harry L. Spaulding, Chicago clubman, and president of the Boyden-McGee Importing Company.

Nancy scanned the first page, every page of the newspaper, hoping against hope that her own picture wasn't there. She didn't see how it could be because she had no picture of herself in Boston, and when the reporters had come to the Coronado, almost as soon as she and Ginger and Jerry had arrived home, Nancy had refused to have a flashlight taken.

Where the papers got pictures of the others she did not know. She forgot that those others in the party were people well known about town and that in the "morgue" of every big newspaper there are files and files of pictures of just about every body of any importance. She had not known that Peggy Spaulding, Boyden's picture had been printed every where in connection with her most recent, rather sensational divorce in Chicago.

FLOATING HAND STILL MYSTERY

The mystery of the human hand, found bobbing gruesomely in the waters of the Charles River near, still baffles the Metropolitan, Boston and Cambridge police. The hand, cleaved cleanly away from the arm at the wrist, is being held by the Metropolitan police to be part of a girl's body. But so far as the flesh swollen and decomposed that the authorities are not certain of this. They are only sure that it is part of the body of an adult.

The list of missing persons in Boston and in all the towns along the Charles and Studdy rivers has been checked in a blind effort to throw some light on the mystery. The authorities admit there is strong possibility of a murder having been committed and a dismembered body disposed of in the waters of one of the two rivers. The police are hopeful that within a day or two other parts of the body will come to the surface and will aid them in solving the mystery.

The soft texture of the skin is what leads the authorities to believe the hand is that of a girl. There were no rings on the fingers, but the nails were well maintained and rather small.

The police discount the theory that the hand was thrown or found its way into the river from the classroom of a medical school. It is pointed out that when a medical student requires a hand on which to work the entire arm is already dissected.

MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By HELEN ROWLAND
Many a beautiful moonlight evening has ended in a sigh of relief instead of in a sigh of ecstasy—because it lasted just an hour too long.

When a modern woman has learned how to operate a vacuum cleaner, a percolator, an electric sewing machine, a can-opener, a cocktail shaker and a motor car, she may not be an ideal housewife, but she is certainly an expert mechanic.

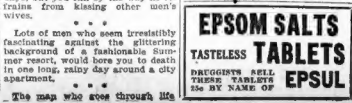

There is nothing like a diet of potatoes parsnips and pomegranates to make you sigh for an honest baked potato—and nothing like an unexpected visit of other women's husbands at a house-party to make you appreciate the plain home you left behind in the city.

Many a plain, bald, middle-aged man has more "it" than a comely young Adonis. Many a little shrump, who understands women, has more charm than a giant than a six-foot Apollo, all brawn and protoplasm.

You can't judge a husband's love by the way he kisses his wife these days, but you can by the way he retreats from kissing other men's wives.

Lots of men who seem irresistibly fascinating against the glittering background of a fashionable summer resort, would lose you to death in one long, rainy day around a city apartment.
